	Child labour refers to the use of children as a source of labour fundamental rights_ in the-process . Such rights include the opportunity school regularly have peace of mind and live a dignified life. Worldwide, as many as 152 million children have jobs. They earn simply do not have enough time to go to school and improve their future are forced to work in dangerous and unhealthy conditions. These cl plantations, mines, factories, as domestic slaves and as prostitutes. The many hours in a row, often in unhealthy and hazardous conditions psychologically and morally harmful for children. poverty often leads to child labour. Parents regard their children as ad a huge problem especially in developing countries where_parents are unthe lack of employment opportunitiesWar, migration and discrimination to child labour_High school costs of education is another cause of chillive in abject poverty priority is given to providing food for the factor expensive to afford especially when there are many children to pay so children stay at home because there is lack of money to send them to so working as unskilled labourer to help support the family Child labour robs minors of the opportunity to enjoy their childred decent shot at success. It is not just an affront to the rights of a child but has lost its way_We should therefore all strive to ensure that the funding rotected and that
